The figure consists of two separate line graphs, labeled (a) and (b), both plotting 'Rate of reaction' on the y-axis against 'Temperature' on the x-axis.

Graph (a) shows a bell-shaped curve. The rate of reaction starts at a low level at 10°C, rises to a peak at 30°C, and then decreases as the temperature increases further to 40°C.

Graph (b) shows a curve that starts at a low level at 10°C, rises very steeply between 10°C and 30°C, and then levels off (becomes horizontal) at 30°C and 40°C.
